I live in an area of Colorado with very poor radio reception with few radio stations to listen to. I do not support any lobbying by radio stations to limit satellite radio. Radio stations need to find a way to compete with the quality and variety of the satellite radio shows. The radio stations should not bully the listeners of radio, be it satellite or airwave radio. Any attempt to limit what satellite listeners can tune to is censorship motivated by greed. I do not want to be limited as to what news and info is available to me by the near monopoly that is airwave radio.
